9:15	Arthur Hayes	Maybe U.S.-centric Roubini thinks that New York DFS and New York AG is the only game in town and we need to bow down and take [expletive] from the U.S. government, just because it is regulated ... that is really not my game, I did not want to sit on a bottom bunk with bobo all day, so I got out of that situation...
9:41	Andrew Neil	No, but you will understand that in the scale of global regulation: the SEC, New York, the regulatory authorities in London or in Frankfurt, are on a slightly different scale than regulatory authorities in the Seychelles.

9:55	Arthur Hayes	It just costs more to bribe them.
9:57	Andrew Neil	Costs more to bribe them? ... So, how much are you paying to bribe the Seychelles authorities?
10:07	Arthur Hayes	A coconut.
